deposits aropy sediment will often be found,
and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, the color will be a thin, watery, and again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will

30 DAYS TRIAL

THE OLD STORY.

Mr. B. C. Corbaley, the head of the law department of A. L. Bancroft & Co., of San Francisco, visited the Capital yesterday. He thinks Nevada will be the loser by several thousand dollars in having had the Nevada Statutes printed in this State and then sent to California to be bound.—Carson Index.

The solicitude some San Francisco hunters feel for the financial prosperity of Nevada is perfectly wonderful. For twenty years Bancroft has felt called upon at a great expense to keep an agent posted at the capitol, in Carson, at each session of the Legislature, to prevent Nevada Legislators from bankrupting the State, by making provisions for doing the State's printing at home. Dr. Clark spent a small fortune trying to prevent the Legislature from plunging the State into everlasting ruin by making provisions for the care of the insane at home, and when he found his arguments unavailing came near going crazy himself at the thought of the awful financial calamity which (in his mind) was sure to follow, and not content to stand from under and witness the State's terrible downfall spent several thousand dollars in a vain endeavor to have the law declared unconstitutional after it was passed. The kindness of these people is excelled only by their boundless cheek, and they would probably deem it the height of impertinence if informed of the fact that Nevada people are eminently qualified to puzzle their own financial canons and that solicitations by such over zealous friends (?) is in no wise appreciated.

Since Captain Webb lost his life in trying to swim the rapids below Niagara Falls, it has been decided that the thing cannot be done. But now comes along a Captain J. D. Rhodes who proposes to accomplish the hazardous undertaking in which Webb failed. If Rhodes undertakes to swim the rapids and whirlpool he too will be among the things that were. This, however, will not deter some other great swimmer from trying the experiment. All a man will have to do hereafter is to try and swim that angry torrent in order to leave a name behind him, and we doubt not but many will try the foolish and suicidal task.

Unlike at least one of his illustrious predecessors President Arthur seems not disgustingly anxious to make a show of himself. On his recent trip to the Yellowstone he failed to present himself on the platform at every cross-road station between Chicago and Green River, Wyoming, and he is charged by the Chicago Times correspondent with having shown disrespect to and offended the people assembled to meet him at those places. The Times correspondent did not, evidently, accomplish his journey in the Presidential car.

Train robbers will have a poor show on the Northern Pacific road. The express company's cars in which valuables are shipped are provided with double combination safes, the combination to the inner lock is in the hands of the agents at the stations, while the messengers who travel on the road have that of the outer lock. This will be a pretty effectual check to cracksmen, for it would take a small army of accomplices to capture the station agent and get both parties in their power who hold the safe combinations.

The complete collapse of the great trial against the Jews in Hungary shows that the days of religious persecutions are nearing their end. The prosecution tried by wholesale perjury to make out their case, but when the newspapers exposed the subornation of perjury and the manufactory of eye-witnesses of the crime, not even anti-Semitic prejudice could bolster up a fatally weak case.

A female physician from San Francisco, who has been visiting Washington Territory, distinguished herself at Olympia, according to the Territorial papers, by getting into a public dispute with the Mayor of the city—himself a physician—and spitting in his face. The example of Kate Kane, the Milwaukee lawyeress, is becoming contagious.

General Crook's Report.

General Crook has filed his report with the War Department at Washington. After reciting the facts which led to his pursuit and capture of the Indians in Mexico, and the willing support offered by Mexican officials he closes with the following sensible talk, which is convincing proof of what the people long since knew, that Crook is the best Indian fighter in the American Army—best, because he is familiar with the Indian character and all his peculiarities, and is not blinded by sentimentalism and is brave enough to be just, even in dealing with savages. In speaking of the disposition to be made of the captives he says: "Vengeance is just as much to be deprecated as silly sentimentalism. To attempt to punish one of a dozen tribes for deeds of which all were equally guilty, would be a gross act of tyranny; while to attempt to punish all after they had surrendered in good faith, would be not only perfidious, but would involve us in a war with a small but desperate handful of men, who would then fight with the recklessness of the buccaneer under the black flag. The Chief is no more guilty than every member of his band, since he has often less influence than individual members, being merely their mouthpiece or spokesman. To punish individuals for particular crimes would be done were it possible to get evidence, but from the nature of things this is impossible. The Chiricahua will present no difficulty in the work of their being subdued to peaceful restraint. They were not deprived of their arms, for good reasons. It is not advisable to let an Indian think you are afraid of him. Show him that at his best he is powerless in your hands, and he will become your best friend, and cheerfully obey all he may be instructed to do. It is unfair, too, to deprive him of the means of protecting his home and property against white scoundrels, who, armed to the teeth, infest the borders, and would consider nothing so worthy of their prowess as to plunder the homes and appropriate the property of unarmed Indians just beginning to plant, or raise stock. So long as white horses and cattle thieves roam the country, so long should the Indians at San Carlos be allowed to carry arms for their protection."

Leaving the Northwest.

A Red Bluff paper says there is scarcely a day passes but one or more teams pass through that place with emigrants from either Oregon or Washington Territory, and they all tell the same story—a pretty good country but a hard place for a poor man to make a living. Scarcity of water and timber is the universal cry so far as the latter country is concerned. Recently a train of nine wagons, some two-horse, and others four horse teams, passed through on the way from Washington Territory and Idaho. Some were going to Sonoma county and others were hunting a place to make homes, but they did not know just where they would locate. The teams were poor and jaded and the outfits were as bad or worse than the animals. There were fifty-two persons in the company, comprising all ages and both sexes, from the infant in the mother's arms to the gray-headed old man.

Who Wouldn't Be a Boy.

One of the best things to be in the world, Charles Dudley Warner has asserted, is to be a boy. It requires no experience, and the only objectionable thing about it is that it is soon over. The bright Sunday scholar who cried at the idea of being born again was evidently of this opinion, for upon being asked why he gave away to tears he said he was afraid that if he was born again he might be born a girl.

From the Flying Pan into the Fire.

It is like a verification of the Mohammedan notions of Fatalism to read that among the people who lost their lives by the Ischia earthquake were some of those who fled from Alexandria to escape the cholera. The total loss of life by the earthquake, contrary to the usual rule, was underated by the first reports. It is now placed as high as 8,000.

The military revolt in Spain is significant as a pointer and not from its magnitude, for it was a fizzle. But it serves to show that there is disaffection in the army, and that were a popular General to declare for a Republic, King Alfonso could not count upon the loyalty of the troops.

A Railroad Conflict.

For some unaccountable reason the public are always pleased to hear of a conflict between rival Railroad Companies. A conflict regarding the California passenger business is now going on between the Union Pacific and the Denver and Rio Grande. A few weeks ago the latter company gave notice that passengers for California over its line would have the privilege of visiting Denver and Leadville free of charge. This, it was learned, was done in retaliation for the Union Pacific running fast trains between Omaha and Ogden and allowing passengers to visit Salt Lake City free of extra charge. Now the Union Pacific hits back by announcing that passengers for California over its line will also be accorded the privileges of going to Denver and Leadville, and return free of charge. This action will, of course, give the Union Pacific again an advantage, and there is now no other way open for the Denver and Rio Grande to get even except to make a large reduction in rates which, of course, will compel all other lines to do likewise.

The Use of Paper.

A Louisianian says: The time will soon come when, in our damp climate, the floors of all the stores in New Orleans and in other cities in the State will be built of strong, waterproof and indestructible paper tiles. The dampness permeating our dwellings will be counteracted by paper material of a suitable character. All our city cars will be built of paper. The wheels of them will be made of paper. The rails of our street cars, and even the crossties, so liable to decay, will all be renewed in the course of time and be replaced by paper material, suitably treated to remedy existing evils. Nearly all the furniture of our dwellings, so liable to swell or shrink in our damp climate, will be manufactured in an elegant and artistic style by means of paper stock capable of resisting effectually the sudden changes of our temperature.

A Possible Dead-lock.

Montana is preparing to ask for admission to the Union, but although she is Democratic, her chances are no better than those of Dakota. If the House of Representatives should pass a bill to admit Montana, without at the same time admitting Dakota, the Republican Senate would not admit both together, because the greater population of Dakota would give her a preponderance in the Electoral College. And then there is the probability that continued immigration may make Montana just as strongly Republican as Dakota itself.

France and the Chinese.

France has brought matters almost to a dead issue with China. The late French Ambassador at Peking, who passed to San Francisco recently, informed his government that China, despite its pacific professions, was secretly preparing for war. He advised a compromise. The French Foreign Secretary thereupon demanded from the Chinese Ambassador the withdrawal of Chinese troops from the Tonquinese frontier with the alternative of a declaration of war. And the Marquis Tseng, with proverbial caution, asked for time.

The German Government continues its foolish warfare against America on pork. The Admiralty have ordered their commanders of men-of-war to limit their supplies of American pickled pork to what is necessary for the subsistence of the crew during the passage home of vessels from foreign stations. The object of this order is to avoid the handling of any such pork at German ports.

The reports from Washington Territory show that prompt measures are needed to check the smuggling of Chinese over the Northern border. The Restriction Act was obtained with so much difficulty that we cannot afford to have its good effects nullified for lack of a few custom officers on the Dominion border.

It is a curious fact that so firm in texture is the paper of a genuine Bank of England note that burning alone can scarcely destroy it. The authorities having in a little glazed frame the remnants of the note which was the great fire of Chicago. Though completely charred and black, the paper holds together, and the note is sufficiently legible to establish its genuineness to be cashed.

A Sweeping Manifesto.

The manager of the Northern Pacific Railroad is out with a sweeping manifesto concerning free passes and reduced rates for transportation. No passes, he says, will be given to influence business; none to parties who visit the country with a view to settlement; none to parties who wish to see the country and write notices; none to employees of other roads who wish to see the country, except when special request is made by the General Manager; none to employees of the Northern Pacific belonging to the division to which they belong. After June 1, 1884, no passes or reduced rates will be given east of the Missouri to parties who propose to erect elevators. The presentation of passes and reduced rates to encourage new industries must be withdrawn in all the divisions, and a revenue made if possible to pay the interest and expense of operating the road. Round trip passes on the completion of the road will have a cash value of $230, and may be worth $2,000. Transportation is not to be given gratuitously the Company propose to pay for all courtesies received, and will expect proper consideration for all services performed. That's the true racket. Now let the company place its rates at a living figure, and all sections of the country through which the road passes on an equal footing and the management is sure to be popular and the road prosper.

Reports received at the Postoffice from twenty-five of the larger Post-offices show an increase in the sale of postage stamps, postal cards, etc., for the quarter ending June 30, 1883, over the corresponding period of the previous year, of $232,457, or about six per cent. These offices, in the second quarter of 1882, collected about thirty-four per cent of the total revenue direct.

Captain Ericsson, the inventor of the screw propeller, the Monitor, and hosts of other contrivances, is eighty years old, although he appears to be only fifty. His method of preserving his health is peculiar. Upon rising in the morning he rubs his skin briskly with dry towels. Then he takes a cold bath, in Summer using crushed ice. Then comes gymnastic exercises of a vigorous description. When his system has recovered its normal temperature, Ericsson breakfasts upon eggs, tea and coarse brown bread. Then comes work.

When Ladies are Attractive.

All ladies know their faces are attractive when free from pimples. Parker's Ginger Tonic is popular among them because it banishes impurities from blood and skin and makes the face glow with health.

An extra supply of fruits to-day at Leadbetter's.

The Northern Belle mine shipped over $48,000 for the month of July.

Controller Hallock is still in New York and says nothing about coming back.

The street parade and music of the Minstrels yesterday was quite a treat.

The town is full of Indians who have congregated here to take in the big show.

The Appeals says the State Prison is doing big business in the boot and shoe line just now.

Gov. F. A. Tittle, of Arizona, was at the depot yesterday morning, on his return from Denver.

Judge B. C. Whitman, came up from San Francisco yesterday morning en route to Virginia.

Commissioner Kneen, of Virginia, was at the depot this morning on his return from San Francisco.

The Carson papers announce the marriage of R. B. Watson and Miss. Eannab Campbell, all of Reno.

The water supply for the Virginia and Truckee Railroad Company's property at Carson is about exhausted.

The Manager of Robinson's Circus presented all the little waifs at the Orphan's Home with a ticket to the big show.

Leadbetter will have an extra supply of fruits of all kinds with which to supply his regular customers, and others who come to town to take in the circus.

Among the east bound passengers yesterday morning were three distinguished looking Japanese, whom, it was stated, were on their way to take a course of studies in one of the Eastern Colleges.

Colonel Ellis has made the owners an offer for the Esmeralda quartz mill, situated on the Peavine road above town, and if the purchase is made the property will be moved to the Sweetwater mines, in Douglas county.

When persons send packages, etc., through the mails, they should be careful and write the address not only on the wrapper, but on the article enclosed as well, so that in case the wrapper is destroyed, the package can be delivered.

Lon Hamilton has been appointed Superintendent of the Gold Hill mines known as the Imperial, Alpha and Eschequer. It is proposed to work the low grade ores, of which there is said to be large quantities in these mines.

Work in the tunnel at the old J. & K. mine, Pyramid, is being pushed as rapidly as was anticipated. Although the rock is still hard, the workmen are working from 10 to 12 feet of tunnel per day. At this rate the work will be completed by the 1st of October.

Ex Senator Krug, of Lyon county, Nevada, at one time Superintendent of the Eureka mill, and influential in Nevada politics, is bossing a gang of men who are building a street railroad in San Francisco. His salary is about $100 per month. What changes the whirligig of time brings about.

Webster's Dictionary, in the supplement in its latest edition, gives the word "telegrapher," while Worcester's dictionary sticks to "telegraphist." The words are pronounced with the accent on the second syllable, to leg-ra-pher (or-phist), and not tele-graph-er, or tel-e-graph-ist, as so often mispronounced.

A Teachers' Institute.

It has been decided to hold a State and county Teachers' Institute in Reno the last week in August, commencing on Monday, the 27th, and continue with day and evening sessions during the week. Prof. C. S. Young, State Superintendent, will lead in the matter, and will be assisted by Professors Howe, of Carson, Waggonier, of Gold Hill, Foster, of Reno, County Superintendent Allen and others. The County Commissioners at their last session appropriated $100 to aid in paying the expenses. In the East, these Institutes have become universal, and are considered an indispensable part of the public school system. By this means teachers are afforded an opportunity to meet and confer with each other upon educational matters and discuss the various methods of teaching, and in that way, educate themselves in the science of teaching, enabling them the more readily to impart the knowledge they possess to the pupils under their charge. The Institute is not, nor is it intended as a holiday for teachers, but to afford them an opportunity to put in a profitable week of hard labor in a righteous cause.

A Nevada Lady's Adventure.

Mrs. B. F. Layton, the music teacher, well known in Reno, was on the excursion train which collided with the freight car near Carlton, New York, on the 27th ultimo, and she narrowly escaped annihilation. In fact her escape was providential. Mrs. Layton writes that she was on the forward sleeper, but shortly after leaving Niagara Falls for some reason the sleeper was transferred to the end of the train. It was half past 9 at night, and the train was running at a high rate of speed, when the engineer noted a single car standing on the track ahead of him. He at once put on the air-brakes and reversed the lever of his engine, but before the speed of the train could be slackened the engine dashed into the obstruction, being in the rear car. Mrs. Layton escaped with a severe shaking up, but was not otherwise injured. She says that at last accounts 30 people were dead and 50 more badly injured.

Knew the Preacher's Father.

If there is any one thing a Nevada miner reveres above another it is to hear the truth spoken at all times. A few weeks ago a new preacher from the East was holding forth to a mixed audience in the little mining camp of Columbus, Esmeralda county, and announced for his text, "In my father's house are many mansions." He had hardly ceased speaking when a tall, gray-haired man, dressed in the garb of an honest miner stood up and said: "I tell you folks that's a lie. I know his father well. He lives about three miles east of the Hawpatch, in Indiana, in an old log cabin that was built when I was a boy, and there ain't but one room in the house."

Too Much Advice.

The Carson Appeal says the application for a writ of habeas corpus in the Sweeney case was denied by the Supreme Court and Sweeney will have to serve out 250 days. Hon. William Woodburn, who was his first attorney in the case, advised him to sign the contract offered by the ranchers, which gave him more than the original court decree, but he got another lawyer, took different advice and is now in jail. Mr. Woodburn then withdrew from the case and has since refused to have anything to do with it.

A Noticeable Fact.

There is one thing which characterizes the present strike among the telegraphists, and makes it different from strikes generally, and that is the gentlemanly and law abiding way in which the strikers have thus far conducted themselves. This is one way in which to certainly gain the sympathies of the public. Had they started in by breaking down wires and committing depredations generally, public sympathy would have been with the Western Union.

Nature was wise when it ordained that chickens should not have teeth. If it were possible to look in a chicken's mouth and tell its age, like that of a horse, by its teeth, it would be a square giveaway on the farmer who was trying to palm off an old hen as a Spring chicken.

Mrs. Simmons, an elderly woman who has gained quite a notoriety in the Police Court recently, was yesterday adjudged guilty of drunkenness, and disorderly conduct, and was given, until to day at 10 o'clock, to appear for sentence. She may or she may not appear.

Humors of the Strike.

People in the East who are in the habit of using the telegraph extensively are having a world of fun as a partial compensation for some of the annoyances of the strike. Many ludicrous blunders as well as annoying mistakes are made by the inexperienced operators in charge of the wires. The finer points of these "bulls" are only understood by those with a full knowledge of the telegraphic alphabet, but the following are a few examples.

A wealthy bachelor who is Summering at Long Branch, telegraphed some of his fellow bachelors in New York, "open my house and circulate my wine."

Their consternation could only have been augmented had he been a benedict, for the message reached them:

"Open my horse and circulate my wife."

A wealthy lady stopping at Saratoga with her 16 year-old daughter, telegraphed her husband at Cincinnati: "Our daughter had a chill last night"

The anxious father was horrified on reading the operators rendition of the message:

"Our daughter had a child last night," and before he could recover from the shock received another announcing that: "Mary has just had another child."

But the crowing bull was the following: The original dispatch read: "The lumbermen of this section are skidding their logs preparatory to hauling them to their mills," and when it had passed through the hands of one of the receiving operators up stairs it read: "The lumbermen of this section are skinning their dogs preparatory to hauling them to their meals"

Mark Parish is doing a good business in San Francisco. In company with Geo. H. Taylor, an old Bodieite, he is manufacturing bar syrups, Jamaica ginger, essence of peppermint, Florida water, bay rum and sachet powder. His place of business is 314 Clay street.

The Enterprise reports the recent discovery of a rich ledge a few miles east of Virginia City. If that should prove true, who will hereafter say the country has been thoroughly prospected?

In the Justice Court yesterday, the four men arrested for vagrancy pleaded guilty to the charge and were permitted to go upon their own recognizance until to-morrow to appear for sentence—they will appear, of course.

The boys were very industrious yesterday and as a result there are a number of dogs in the pound anxiously awaiting owners or death. The boys must have circus money, you know.

John B. H., the well known millman, arrived yesterday morning from Bodie. Mr. B. H. is here to consult with Lindley & Co. as to the possibility of starting the English Mill.

Deservedly Popular.

Unless it had great merit Parker's Ginger Tonic could not be so popular. Its sale has spread remarkably everywhere, because invalids find it gives them new life and vigor when other medicines fail entirely.

An attractive, youthful appearance secured by using Parker's Hair Balsam to all who are getting gray.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SLIGHT ODDS.

A Little Story With a Large Moral—One Man Who Knew his own Business.

"No, my dear," said the venerable keeper of a country store to a timid little girl whose head scarcely came up to the level of the counter. "No, my dear, we haven't any red flannel, but we have some first rate New Orleans molasses." Softly hinting that she didn't think that would answer the purpose quite as well, the child went her way in search of the article she wanted.

"Have you SENSON'S CAPSICINE PLASTERS?" asked a gentleman of a certain druggist whose name could be given were it desired. "I am troubled just now with a touch of my old friend, the rheumatism, and the Benson's Plaster seems to go to the spot almost as soon as it touches the skin."

"Not at present," replied the druggist, generally, "but, we have lots of plaster as just as good. There is Allcock's, the Capsicum and others—won't one of them do as well?"

"My dear sir," returned the gentleman, with a slight show of temper, "I say nothing against those articles, but I am a business man, and always ask for precisely what I want, and for nothing else. I may enlighten you, however, when I say that sometime ago, for another disease, of which the Capsicum has since cured me, I tried all those you mention, with no appreciable benefit. They are inefficient, every one of them, the meaning act of the proprietors of some of them being this: that they make plasters with similar sounding names to deceive the unwary into believing they are the same thing. Experience taught me different. I'll go to the next man in your line Good day."

Be on your guard against imitations. The genuine has the word CAPSICINE clearly in the middle of the plaster. All others are impositions.
